Wembley has a special atmosphere of it's own and I know we'll rise to that occasion.

I think I speak for most of the England players when I say I love playing at Wembley. I'm not frightened by the place.

to the way we play.

RAY WILKINS (Man. Utd.)

It's more natural to play on an enclosed pitch like Anfield and Old Trafford, but the game is so important that there's bound to be nerves wherever you hold it.

The only thing that's important to us is qualifying for the World Cup Finals and our national stadium is the best place to do it.

'Wembley's all part of

THERE is no doubt Wembley can lift a visiting team.

Foreign sides in particular love playing there because of the stadium's traditions and importance in European circles.

But switching the vital World Cup game against Hungary to a League ground would, in my opinion, make no real difference.

Playing at Anfield would possibly help if there were four or five Liverpool players in the

To me there is just as much atmosphere with a full house at Wembley and playing at that stadium is all part of the glamour of playing for England.

'We can beat Hungary anywhere'

MICK MILLS (Ipswich)

WHEN people talk about our recent record at Wembley they are just looking for excuses

We went through an indifferent spell and the results and performances would have been the same whether we played at Wembley or on a League ground.

Now we are getting our game together I think we can beat Hungary anywhere in the country.

I think the crowd have been very patient at Wembley and have always tried to force us

But when things don't go that well you can't expect them to stand there and say 'well done'

So quite honestly moving the match from Wembley wouldn't make the slightest difference in my opinion.

'The atmosphere's great'

KENNY SANSOM (Arsenal)

WEMBLEY is the only place to stage such an important match.

It's the only stadium capable of holding the sort of crowds that want to see such a crucial game.

The atmosphere is great at Wembley and to be honest I love playing there.
But I do think there's a need

Apart from that, a player can get too used to playing in one place so a change wouldn't do us any harm either. As for the argument that Wembley lifts our opponents, I reckon sometimes it goes the other way - it frightens them.

SHREWSBURY Town's midfield battler lan Atkins (right) is ready to move out to football's 'backwater'.

The 24-year-old, who has made over 200 League appearances for the Second Division team, told Match: "My contract is up and I'm ready to move to a bigger club.

"Shrewsbury are a great little outfit and I'll always be grateful to them for giving me my chance, but they are a backwater club.

At the beginning of last season Shrawsbury turned down a £125,000 offer from Chesterfield and there have been reports that Cheisea have shown an interest this time.

CREWE free transfer Peter Coyne has told how the ance of a droam care so with a top Portuguese club turned sour.

After being released by the Fourth Division team at the end of the season, Peter was offered trials by Opporto based Rio Ave of the First Division.

"Everything went wrong — I only stayed there two days," said the former Man. United. striker.

"There was no one to meet me at the airport and I was kept waiting a further four hours at the club before I was

Peter had expected to take part in trials, but when he eventually joined the players he found himself doing ordinary pre-season training instead of being given the chance to show what he could do with a ball.

"It was a waste of time. Although they wanted me to stay I decided it was better to be happy than earn loads of money and be miserable.

"I'd only go back there as a last resort," said Peter, who it having talks with a couple of League clubs."

YNDHAM EVANS (SWANSEA)

WITH a little more consistency last season Sheffield Wednesday would have been promoted to the First Division.

In fact, had three points for a win been in operation last season they would have just been pipped on goal difference.

Manager Jack Charlton has been in the transfer market to strengthen the squad, and with Terry Curran always capable of scoring goals, I'm sure they will be in with a shout.

Chelsea had a miserable finish to the season when they just couldn't score goals. But earlier in the campaign it looked as though they would be almost certain for promotion.

They've got a new manager now in John Neal and providing they can solve their goalscoring problems, one must fancy them to be among the front runners again.

MATCH Weekly's big match specialist Paul Stratton will be back with his weekly football forecasts in our August 29 issue . . . and this season he'll be giving away cash prizes!

As usual, Paul will be selecting ten matches each week and forecasting a possible result for each one.

And as before, there will be a special 'Stratton on Saturday' panel in the magazine so every match reader gets the chance to beat him.

But for the first time this season, each week one lucky reader will see his predictions in print!

Just imagine how envious your pals will be!
All you have to do is send in your name, age and address — together with a black and white photograph of yourself — and most importantly your home telephone number.

All the entries we receive will be kept in a special file and each week one lucky reader will be picked to compete against Paul in the magazine.

If your name is picked out, someone from the Match Weekly office will telephone you with the ten selected matches and ask you for your predictions

You'll then have the chance to win a cash prize of £5!

As usual points will be awarded according to how accurate your forecasts are and if you score more than Paul you are a winner!

So if you reckon you know your football, get your names, addresses AND TELEPHONE NUMBERS in DON McAllister has moved across London from FA Cup winners Spurs to Second Division Charlton. Here the defender tells you the inside story behind the move . . .

TOTTENHAM had just gone 12 games without defeat and manager Keith Burkinshaw congratulated me on my performance. The next Saturday he dropped me!

I found myself in the reserves and never had chance to establish myself in the first team.

The manager's attitude changed towards me and he started missing me out of the team and messing me act.

messing me about. The thing that was so hard to accept was that Keith never once criticised my form — it was always the opposite

'IT WAS OBVIOUS I'D HAVE TO GO'

It was obvious towards the end of the season that I'd have to go —
I knew before I watched my team-mates lift the FA Cup.
I was very disappointed at missing out on Spurs' Cup success
— It's every players dream to get to Wembley.
But I've no regrets because I had seven greet years at White Hart
Lane.

I thoroughly enjoyed my spall there and I had the privilege of playing alongside world class players like Ossie Ardiles, Ricky Villa and Glenn Hoddle.

It was a difficult decision to leave Spurs because they are one: of the clite. And while missing out on the cup success was very disappointing for me personally. I was very happy for lads who played.

Of my own spell at Spurs I reakon the highlight was when we jumped straight back into the First Division after being ralegated in 1977.

1977.
It was a pressure season for us but we showed that we were equal to the challenge and went straight back up in style.
I wish my old mates well and I think they'll be very successful. There's the makings of a great team there and with Garth Crooks and Steve Archibald popping in the goels this season they'll be a force to be reckoned with.

▲ AMBITIOUS Alan Mullery persuaded me to join Charlton even though I could have stayed in the First Division with mighty Arsenal

Charlton aren't a glamorous side by any means but their new manager got me so enthusiastic about the place that I decided to drop down a division.

I'm still ambitious and want to play in the First Division but I believe I can do that with Charlton.

The set up at the Valley is very impressive and completely different to the last time I was there. They've built two new stands and have plans for a third.

I did have talks with Terry Neill at Arsenal — he was the man who at Arsenai — ne was the man who signed me for Spurs — and I could have Joined him again. But it was the completely different challenge of Charlton that really appealed to me.

Alan has signed some useful players in Leighton Phillips from Swansea and the highly rated Phil Ferns from Bournemouth so the future looks bright for us. 🌑

Don McAllister — turned down a chance to stay in Division One with Arsenal to join Alan Mullery's Charlton.

Dishiest — that's Paul Mariner of

Gorgeous Glenn

I am Glenn Hoddle's number one fan and think he's the handsomest player around. He also plays as good as he looks.

Anna Esposito, London.

Atkinson must be mad!

MANCHESTER United boss Ron Atkinson must be mad to self Mickey Thomas to Everton after three years of loyal service. A nifty little winger he's been a permanent fixture in the Welsh team since his debut in 1977 and he's made and scored numerous goals. His flair and skill will be sorely missed.

Craig Brown (15), Orpington,

Ron Atkinson is mad to sell Mickey Thomas says Craig

BEAUTIFUL . . . great legs . . . lovely eyes . . . nice smile . . . Match columnist Paul Mariner's got the lot.

The Ipswich and England centre forward certainly gets your vote as the dishlest player in football.

You flooded us with letters when we asked you to name your handsome hunk of footballer. And while more than 30 different stars got a mention

Paul Mariner got most votes.

Spurs ster Glenn Hoddle and Ville's Gary Shaw pressed Paul hard for the title. . . as did Frank Stapleton.

Others in the running were Russell Osman (Ipswich), Steve Coppell (Manchester United), Alan Hansen (Liverpool) and Kevin Keegan (Southampton), Here's just a small selection of the letters we received .

Bionic Morley

TONY Morley gets my vote. His beautiful bionic legs enable him to do a superb job down the wing. Sharon Young, Peterborough.

GARY Shaw fans included: Heidi Prentice of Kirton, Suffolk, Ellen Bishop (15) of Nottingham; Jackie Leach (16) of Hillingdon, Middlesex; Karen Abbott (16),

Burnley, Lancs. Other Glenn Hoddle fans included: Lisa Dray, Welling, Kent; Sarah Lawrence, Meldreth, Herts; Michelle McNamara, Bucknall, Stoke-on-Trent; Elizabeth Bubb, Stourbridge, West Midlands; Clare Minards, Bramhall, Cheshire. And other Paul Mariner fans

included Gisvanna Hawrylak (16), Bolton, Karen Abbott, Melksham, Wilts; Janit Potter, Clacton, Essex; and Lesley Goodman, Lydney

Honours

HERE are my predictions . . . First Division: Champions -Ipswich; relegated— Swansea, Notts County, Brighton. Second Division: Promoted —

Q.P.R., Luton, Leicester; relegated

— Cardiff, Rotherham, Bolton. Third Division: Promoted — Plymouth, Huddersfield, Fulham; relegated — Lincoln, Gillingham, Walsall, Chester.

Fourth Division: Promoted — Aldershot, Blackpool, Sheffield United, Wigan; re-election — Hereford, Halifax, Rochdale, Tranmere.

Robert Fuller (14), Catford, London.

'Rangers' can't fail

l bet Q.P.R. go up next season. With Terry Venables as manager and classy players like Tony Currie, Gerry Francis and Clive Allen they can't fail. Leicester and Norwich will go up with O. Laws. London.

Mister Wonderful -that's Mariner

Lovely eyes

MY sister and I think that the dishiest of players are: 1 Paul Meriner — he's got lovely eyes and a lovely smile; 2 Russell Osman nice legs; 3 George Burley — nice hairstyle; 4 Kevin Keegan — nice voice.

Judith and Pamela Hawkins, Tunbridge Wells, Kent.

Robson — my romeo!

WITH his good looks, lovely curls and the best pair of legs in the business, Bryan Robson of West Brom stands out a mile. He's also the best player in the country.

Sally Rogers (15) West Haddon

Sally Rogers (15), West Haddon, Northampton.

Good-looking

MY vote goes to England skipper Kevin Keegan, but I've picked a good-looking England team: Ray Clemence, Phil Neal, Bryan Robson, Dave Watson, Kenny Sansom, Steve Coppell, Glenn Hoddle, Kevin Keegan, Trevor Brooking, Trevor Francis, Paul Mariner.

Carole Tate (14), Beverley, North Humberside.

Handsome Hinnigan

PAUL Mariner looks like a girl if you ask me! Joe Hinnigan of Sunderland is much better looking. He's dead attractive and only a few years older than me.

Claire Lewis (15), Bristol

Terrific trio

MY top three dishy players are: Steve Coppell (Man. Utd.) — with his hair cut; Ray Wilkins (Man. Utd) and Russell Osman (Ipswich) with his hair cut. My mum's favourite is Mick Chennon of Southampton.

Joanne Lines (16), Nursling, Southampton.

Cater for families

TO bring crowds back to football matches clubs should: play more games on Sundays when more families can attend because parents aren't working, have special areas for families, organise better pre-match and half-time entertainment, provide better facilities and make a conscious effort to keep prices down.

Heather Cameron, Glenrothes, Scotland.

Come back Gordon

I wish Leeds would buy Gordon McQueen back from Manchester United. He can bring back the good old days to Elland Road. Gordon will be unhappy with new United boss Ron Atkinson because he sold a former Leeds player — Joe Jordan — to AC Milan.

Pinderjit Singh Rai, Handsworth, Birmingham.

Manchester United defender Gordon McQueen — I wish Leeds would buy him back says Pinderjit Singh Rai.

shaw does nothing

GARY Shaw? Pah! He doesn't know what football's about. When he was asked if he would give any credit to Ipswich after Villa won the title he said "no, we've won the League and it's time for celebrations." He does nothing on the football field — he scores goals, but he can't tackle, pass or dribble. Player of the Year

— what rubbish. Paul Sissons (12), East Molesey. Surrey.

Sent off!

because you hate beth time Paul because you're off for an early one! Even if it were true that Gary can't tackle, pass or dribble it wouldn't matter with his goalscoring ability. Paul Sissons? Hah!

Clemence out

I'M outraged that Peter Shilton and Ray Clemence are still the number one choices for England goalkeeper. Why doesn't Ron Greenwood give John Lukic of Leeds a chance? David Olden (16), Knowle, Bristof.

Bristol.

Ouite simple David. John Lukic isn't in the same class. Your name's in the book.

Baron's the king

PAUL Barron should be England's goalkeeper anyday. He may have let in 68 goals in 34 games, but he kept Stoke's Lee Chapman from scoring for a long time so he must be good.

Thanks Philip I needed a good laugh. You're booked.

Super Leeds?

I'M outraged with the treatment given to Leeds by the Southern Press. Well just keep quiet from now on because Leeds will finish in the top six this season. Anthony Williams (13), Liss, Hants.

They must be putting something in the water down in Hampshire! They might get in the 'top six' for relegation! Anthony you are booked.

Ignorant ref!

I'M outraged because I find you (Anthony Haskell I think your name is) very rude and ignorant. All you do is hand out red cards or bookings and you can't write a decent reply. Dean Kimber (16), Landport, Hants-

• The name's Hawkswell 'Don' and you're booked.

Stoke in Europe!

STOKE may not be one of the great names in English soccer, but they deserve some credit and on the showing of some of their results last season I think they are in a strong position to challenge for Europe this season.

Paul Moss, Whitchurch, Shrops.

Paul Moss, Whitchurch, Shrops.

Course they are Paul . . . and Ipswich will be relegated. You're booked for dreaming.

Germany the champs

IF you are looking for the winner of the next World Cup you need look no further than West Germany — they don't have a weakness. I can't see Brazil or Argentina beating them.
Gary Tarring, Pelsall, West Midlands.

 Brazil beat Germany on their recent European tour smarty pants! If they meet in the World Cup finals victory will be even more convincing.

Greenwood's blunder

t'M outraged at Ron Greenwood's choice of an England team. He should pick the following side and stick to it for Spain: Jim Montgomery, John Gidman, Mick Mills, Jeff Clarke, Roy McFarland, Gerry Francis, Steve Coppell, Ray Kennedy, Charlie George, Stan Cummins, Gary Rowell. Good side isn't it? Paul Mirfield, Morpeth, Northumberland.

No, it's rubbish Paul. You're booked.

Gary Megson (left) and his father Don on their return to Hillsborough. Don spent 18 years with Sheffield Wednesday and skippered them in their 1966 FA Cup Final defeat by Everton from whom son Gary has signed for Wednesday.

MEGSON MEANS BUSINESS

SPOTLIGHT on the transfer trail and the move that took one of today's young stars to his dad's old club . . .

SHEFFIELD Wednesday's £130,000 signing Gary Megson has not followed in his famous father's footsteps to Hillsborough purely out of sentiment sentiment.

"I'm ambitious and so are Wednesday and I want to get back into the First Division next season," says 22-year-old Gary, whose father Don was one of Wednesday's most successful skippers in the sixties.

"I supported Wednesday as a a boy and lived in the area for ten years, but I'm not here out of sentiment. "The club have a First Division set-up in terms of crowd potential and facilities and I hope I can help them back to the top this season.

"Before the move came about I had mentioned to Everton team mate Garry Stanley that Wednesday and Chelsea were the only two clubs I would join outside the First Division because they are big clubs in every sense of the word.

"As it turned out Wednesday came in for me so I didn't have second thoughts about signing, once all the financial matters had been resolved and after I had heard how ambitious they were."

Gary, who cost Everton £250,000 from Plymouth two seasons ago, was having a quiet drink in a Majorca cafe with team mates John Bailey and Garry Stanley when he first heard of a possible transfer.

"I was just sitting around when a fellow came up to me and said he had read in a newspaper that I was on the way from Everton," says Gary. "When I returned home four days later Howard Kendall confirmed that Sheffield Wednesday were keen to talk and the situation developed from there.

"I was not on the transfer list although I spent most of last season thinking about a move. "I was injured in the first

"I was injured in the first game of last season and with Steve McMahon and Asa Hartford playing so well together my chances became more limited.

"But I have no regrets about joining the club. To me they are the biggest club in the country after Manchester United and their supporters are the best in the land.

"I just hope that the fans are rewarded with some success in the near future, says Gary who started his soccer career at Plymouth.
